Hope Fades For State Bonds To Improve Highway

Hits Political Opposition From Counties Off "Main Drags"

SACRAMENTO —(C. N. S.)— Although there is little indication so far that anything will be done at this session of the legislature regarding the state's deficient highway system, hearings on Senator Randolph Collier's bill paving the way for a series of strategic highways, including improvement of Highway 40 from Sacramento to Reno, have developed the fact that California never can catch up to its needs under present revenues.

Collier's proposal is for a vote of the people on a plan to put a sales tax, in addition to the present 4½ cent tax on gasoline, increase the taxes on diesel fuel and increase from two to two and a half per cent the "in lieu" tax on all vehicles.

Bond Issue

Further, he suggests bonding the state for the next ten years up to one billion dollars, using the revenues from the above increases to retire the bonds, and spend the proceeds of the bond sale on a super system of highways up and down, and across California.

As a counter proposal, Senator Arthur H. Breed of Oakland has a measure before the senate transportation committee which provides for a 25 per cent increase on all motor vehicle taxes.

Breed contends that if this is the time to impose new taxes on the people, and everyone agrees that more mney is necessary if the deficiencies in the state's highway system are to be corrected in any reasonable length of time, that all taxes should be increased, and the present formula for distribution of the revenues of the state, cities and counties should be followed.

Staggering Sums

The moneys necessary to even start on deficiencies are staggering. Revenues from the present gasoline tax, the committee was told, will approximate one billion, four hundred million dollars during the next ten years. Collier's measure adding another billion to this total for strategic highways, or as Senator Ray Judah of Santa Cruz characterized them, the "main drags" of the state, would provide additional funds for these highways only.

Under the Collier bill, the counties off the "main drag" would not participate in the moneys from the bond issue, but would get some increase from the gas tax revenue to compensate for the fact they are not on the main line.

Political Snags

Politically, this proposal runs into a few snags, as many of the state's senators are from counties which have no major highways through their boundary lines. Consequently, it would follow these senators are going to look with suspicion on any measure that involves the credit of the state to a billion dollars, and their particular areas derive no benefit from this credit, with the exception of the increases from regular revenues.

At the transportation committee's hearing this week, no attempt was made to get either Breed's or Collier's bill out of committee, as further hearings will be held next Monday night. Still to be heard from is the outside opposition to proposals for increases in the gas tax, including oil companies, who are reported by Collier to be in opposition to his measure.

It will not be surprising, then, if the bills end up on the file without action at this session.

Local Boy Hurt Badly In Auto Crash In Valley

Harry Eaton returned Wednesday morning from San Francisco where he visited his son, George, 22, a patient at Letterman General Hospital, who was critically injured in an automobile accident near Salinas Sunday night.

George, who is stationed with the army at Camp Roberts, was returning to camp with three other soldiers, following a week end visit with his wife in Sacramento, when the accident occurred. The local boy was a passenger in the car and was asleep at the time of the crash.

While reports were meager, it was reported that a second car attempted to make a U turn in the path of the machine occupied by the service men and the two cars sideswiped.

The Eaton youth was the most seriously injured and was taken to Roberts before his transfer to Letterman. Doctors are attempting to save one leg which was badly injured in the crash and his father reports that his condition is still critical and will rejoin his son Friday. George's grandfather also made the trip to San Francisco this week.

Efforts are now being made in a number of cities toward combining most of the principal charity drives into a single annual campaign. Several eastern and middle western cities have tried it with great success. Funds collected in those communities for the combined drive exceeded the quota in each instance, whereas the many separate appeals for aid were consistently falling short. Years ago the Community Chest was established for just that purpose, but as time went on other appeals were made independently until now hardly a week or a month goes by without some organization launching a drive for funds. Of course, virtually all of these are worthy causes, but it would certainly seem better for all if they could get what they need in one joint campaign rather than fail individually and have to operate on reduced budgets.

SAFETY TESTING MOBILE UNIT IS HERE TWO DAYS

"Be sure to visit the mobile safety education unit of the California Highway Patrol in Truckee today or tomorrow," Captain George Peterkin head of the local Highway Patrol squad, urged. "It is free to all and will be well worth your time," he added.

While the unit, a large trailer fully equipped with the latest driver testing devices, will be exhibited in Truckee at the request of Everett V. O'Rourke, superintendent of the Tahoe - Truckee unified schools, for the benefit of school children, everyone can profit by a visit, Peterkin pointed out.

"We will not attempt to evaluate drivers' ability," he declared, "but the results of the tests will be of great interest to those who take them. The main purpose in bringing the unit to Truckee is to impress upon everyone the importance of safe driving and walking habits. A visit to the trailer will not only be instructive but interesting. It is our hope that persons living in this vicinity will take advantage of the exhibition."

BOARD ACCEPTS RESIGNATION OF PRINCIPAL HERE

The resignation of Arthur Eve as principal of the Truckee elementary school was accepted by the board of trustees meeting on Tuesday night. The departure of Eve as head of the local sahool will be regretted and the board was reluctant to accept his resignation.

The board also employed two new teachers for the Tahoe-Truckee Unified high school. William Ropers, a graduate of San Jose College and resident of San Rafael, was employed to teach industrial arts and Miss Mary MacDonald of Sacramento, gradtate of Sacramento State College and UCLA, has been chosen as home making instructor.

Eight bids for supplying a new school bus were opened and the award will be made at a special meeting May 17. At that time, also, bids will be opened for furnishing the high school now under construction west of Truckee.

Another typical spring snow storm struck here last weekend but soon cleared and was followed by ideal weather, the entire area basking in sunshine, with warm days and only slightly chilly nights. The storm forced motorists to use chains over Donner Summit for a brief time only.

Decision Lacking After Meeting On Official Salaries

A meeting of interested parties held at Nevada City on Monday night to discuss with State Senator Harold T. Johnson the question of salary increases for county officials came to an end without settlement and the issue is still in doubt.

Raises were opposed for the district attorney, county clerk and auditor and the five members of the board of supervisors.

The board members at present receive $2200 annually and the figure of $3600 was suggested as a "starting figure" with Chairman H. G. Loehr of Truckee pointing out that the board did not expect this increase but had hopes that a compromise might be reached which would be fair and equitable.

Curtis R. Clark, foreman of the grand jury, who opposes the raises, called attention to the opposition, including the farm bureau, water users association and Banner Grange.

Clark charged that Frank Rowe, member of the board of supervisors, went to Sacramento when the grand jury recommended certain salary raises previously "to get the legislators to block legislation and came back before the grand jury and said 'Just try it again and see how far you get.'"

Johnson asked that the meeting be held, explaining that Governor Warren likes to have the supervisors and grand jury concur favorably before final legislative action is taken.

The meeting adjourned with a mixture of suggestions, none of which are apparently being followed out at this time.

Settlement Seen In Dispute Over Garbage Hauling

Rausch Offers Suggestion To Compromise Differences

Efforts to reach an equitable agreement in the recent flare-up involving the disposal of garbage were being continued here as the members of the Truckee Sanitary District board of directors met Tuesday night to discuss that and other business of the district.

The dispute arose when the board announced cancellation of a contract with Wallace Watkins who has been hauling refuse for the district for the past several months. Board members charged that the work was not satisfactory and cited instances which had been called to their attention that Watkins had violated his contract.

On the other hand, Watkins contended that he has made every effort to meet the terms of the contract and declined to accept the will of the board, continuing to collect and haul the refuse.

New Plan Proposed

In the meantime, Paul Rausch, one-time garbage collector here under the regime of the Truckee Public Utility District, has entered the picture and has offered to purchase the facilities from Watkins, enter into a contract with the board and take over the work, paying the board $108.50 monthly for the privilege, the same fee paid by Watkins.

While the board appears to favor the change, a definite agreement had not been reached and this week both the sanitary board and Watkins were continuing to collect garbage.

Want Clean Town

Members of the board Tuesday night expressed themselves as desiring one thing above all, that being the orderly handling of the situation to avoid possible contamination and keep the district in a sanitary condition. Attending the meeting officially were Directors David Rose, Joe Mattos, N. S. McCrary and Clarence Osburn.

The board is engaged in efforts to put the district on a sound financial footing through a program of economy in order that the high tax rate can be materially reduced.

Dispose of Tractor

The Moore Equipment Company has reclaimed the $10,000 tractor purchased a year ago by the district. The board decided that the equipment was not needed and that terms of the purchase were not in keeping with sound district policies.

The return of the equipment was only one step in a program of strict economy planned.

Peckinpah, Fresno attorney and president of the Exchange Clubs of California, will be guest speaker. His subject will be "Is the threat of Communism in America real or imaginary?"

That WSCS talent show can surely be called a success when our local talent plays to a full house. It is surprising that a community no larger than this has so much talent to offer. Musical offerings by different contributors added much to the evening's entertainment. A tap dance done by Caro' Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Wilson of Lake Forest, was a highlight of the hour. Karen Decker and Jacquie Abbott sang "I'm a Big Girl Now" in a way that causes us to realize that our youngsters are really growing up. Joe Dolcie did a couple of numbers without rehearsing that speaks well for his courage and talent. Mrs. Glunt introduced our local Bill Harling who took over as master of ceremonies and did a fine job. A few weeks old Great Dane puppy was auctioned off, progressive auction style, with Dave Ashton as auctioneer. Carl Brooks took the dog home to feed. The bake sale was in progress throughout the evening and, like the show, was a huge success.

Introduction of Kokanee Into Lake Tahoe

by J. C. FRASER and A. F. POLLITT
(Bureau of Fish Conservation, California Division of Fish and Game)
(Reprint from California Fish & Game, April, 1951)

Ever since Lake Tahoe's vast area ceased to produce the once fabulous population of cutthroat trout, fisheries workers have sought to re-establish a satisfactory game fish population.

At the present time this interstate water provides some fishing for the introduced lake (mackinaw) and rainbow trouts. Neither species has lived up to its original expectations as regards production of angling in keeping with the lake's size and recreational importance. Rainbow through summer use of water from tributary streams is probably one of the factors limiting the production of that species, and shortage of forage fish in the open and deeper waters of the lake may be a limitation on the production of lake trout.

In recent years, attention has been given to the kokanee, a landlocked form of the red salmon, native to waters of the Pacific northwest, which was first introduced into California waters on an experimental basis in 1941.

Many Factors

The decision to introduce the kokanee into such an important body of water as Lake Tahoe was based on several factors, after the habits and requirements of the fish had been studied in other waters. Briefly, these factors are as follows: (1) The kokanee is an open-water lake fish and a feeder on minute plants and animals. Thus, it does not compete seriously with shoal or bottom feeding types of game fish for food, nor is it carnivorous in relation to other species of fish. (2) It is a desirable game fish and has excellent eating qualities. (3) It is a good reproducer, utilizing both gravelly shore areas and tributary streams for spawning. The abundance of good shore spawning areas in Lake Tahoe should be a contributing factor to satisfactory population increase. (4) The kokanee prefers cool water and Lake Tahoe's temperatures are very suitable in this respect. (5) Indications are that the kokanee itself may provide a source of food for other game fish if it becomes sufficiently abundant. In summary, it may may be said that the kokanee is not a predator, that it appears to be well suited to the environment of Lake Tahoe, and that there is reason to hope it will become sufficiently abundant to prove a real asset to he lake's fishery.

Kokanee were first introduced into Lake Tahoe in 1944 through accidental escapement from the 'ahoe hatchery. Returning spawners from this escapement appeared in the hatchery outflow stream in 1946; these fish averaged 14½ inches in length.

Nevada Co-Operates

The first phase of the program to establish a large population of kokanee started in 1949, with the planting of 90,000 fingerlings in three tributary streams on the California side of Lake Tahoe. It should be noted at this point that the Lake Tahoe kokanee introduction program received the full sanction and support of the Nevada Fish and Game Commission before its inception.

In 1950 a total of 613,475 fingering kokanee was planted directly n the lake and in suitable tributary streams in Nevada and California. These fish were hatched rom eggs obtained by California rom the Idaho Department of Fish and Game. Approximately 38,900 of these salmon were raised in the Idlewild Hatchery of Washoe County, located in Reno, Nevada. The remainder were raisd in the Basin Creek and Tahoe State Fish Hatcheries, in California.

Planting in the lake itself was ccomplished by power boat and barge. A regular 150-gallon fish planting tank was mounted on a arge and the fish thus transported were planted in suitable hore spawning areas along both he Nevada and California shore lines. Planting in these shore pawning areas was made to take dvantage of the homing instinct f the kokanee, so that maximum tilization of available spawning reas could be obtained. These hore planting areas were predeermined on the basis of surveys made by personnel of both the Neada and California Fish and Game Divisions. Many areas were not accessible by land routes during April, May, and early June, when the plantings were made, because of deep snows or lack of roads. Thus, the use of this barge proved to be a very satisfactory method of transportation whereby maximum distribution of the fish could be obtained in suitable areas. All of the tributary streams to Lake Tahoe suitable for spawning were stocked from trucks.

Program to '53

The entire stocking program is directed at producing an initial population, which in subsequent years should gradually build itself up to a satisfactory level through natural reproduction. It is tentatively planned to continue this artificial stocking program through 1953. Stream improvement work tificial stocking program through 1953. Stream improvement work in the way of barrier removals, stream flow maintenance, and spawning area improvement is being carried on in streams tributary to Lake Tahoe to increase the success of natural reproduction. Careful follow-up studies on the spawning runs and success of spawning when this activity starts are also planned.

Although the kokanee has excellent possibilities for improvement of the Lake Tahoe fishery, it should not prematurely be considered as a panacea for all of the lake's problems. In the few other waters in California in which the kokanee has been introduced its success has not been uniformly good: growth has been limited in Echo Lake and survival to maturity low in some years in the other waters. It ability to improve the fishery picture of Lake Tahoe will depend largely upon its spawning success in years to come.

ELECTRICAL TIPS FOR THE HOME

If You Plan to Modernize or Redecorate Your Kitchen . . .

DON'T overlook modernization of your lighting. The old-fashioned practice of one ceiling fixture in the center of the kitchen is inefficient. Too often it causes you to work in your own shadow at the range, sink, table or food preparation counters.

DO install lighting over each work area before redecorating. It'll save refinishing and extra wiring costs. Also, it'll make work easier and pleasanter. To avoid accidents, from groping for a light in the dark, put a switch near each entrance.

FAREWELL—Thomas M. Johnson, fireman, USN, of Roanoke, Va., lowers to half mast the national ensign on the USS Ozbourn as part of the Navy's tribute to American war dead being returned to the United States from Korea. He had three reasons for paying homage to the honored dead. His brother, Sgt. Walter M. Johnson, a first cousin, Pvt. Paul E. Martin, and his life-long friend, Pfc. Walter M. Johnson, all U. S. Marines of Roanoke, Va., were killed in the Korean fighting.

HAVE YOU WRITTEN YOUR SERVICEMAN IN KOREA?

"I have mentioned morale as a major factor in the effectiveness of the front-line soldier. I have been told repeatedly by men returning from Korea that there is no greater boost to the morale of our fighting men than letters from home, and the general assurance that we are aware of their effort and their sacrifice and that we are proud of them for it. I want to take this opportunity to urge everyone who knows a serviceman in Korea to sit down and write that man a letter assuring him that you appreciate what he is doing over there."

TAHOE WOMEN'S CLUB TO NAME OFFICERS AT MAY 17 MEETING

TAHOE CITY— Fifteen ladies attended the regular monthly session of the Women's Club of Tahoe last Thursday in Tahoe Community Center with Mrs. Everett V. O'Rourke, president, in charge. A luncheonette was served by hostesses Mrs. Ida Simmonds and Mrs. Anne Anderson.

The dues of the club were raised from $1 to $2 yearly and the International Women's Club dues on last year's 89 members were paid.

Nominating committee chairman Louise Geier presented the following candidates to be voted on at the May 17 meeting: for president, Blanche Donaldson; for vice president, Pearl Snyder; for secretary, Laura Wilson; and for treasurer, Irene Cunningham.

Mesdames Donaldson and Beulah Darnell agreed to take charge of arrangements for the club's spring luncheon to be held at a local resort. It was decided that the members of the club would take charge of the serving of refreshments at the Tahoe-Sierra branch AAUW's hobby festival to be held here on July 20, 21 and 22 at Tahoe Lake School.

Coca-Cola Wins Injunction Against Substitutions

HOLLYWOOD— A Sunset strip night club today was restrained in Federal Court from substituting other beverages for "Coca-Cola."

Federal Judge William C. Mathis issued an injunction against the Cafe Gala in a suit filed by The Coca-Cola Company.

Owners of the cafe were charged in the complaint with substituting another beverage when patrons ordered "Coca-Cola". The court perpetually enjoined the cafe from serving any products other than plaintiff's when "Coca-Cola" was requested by customers. The court also directed that the defendent pay costs of the action.

Last year, the organization reported, a total of 1,605,880 tourists spent $135,921,683 in the area between the Tehachapis and the Oregon line for services and supplies of all kinds.

Harry Johanson Resigns From Planning Body

AUBURN— Constable Harry Johanson of Tahoe City tendered his resignation from the Placer County Planning Commission and it was accepted by the board of supervisors at their final April meeting. Johanson was one of the original members of the commission and served as its secretary for several years. His successor was to have been named early this month.

At the same session, the supervisors granted the petition of Vey and Harold Young for rezoning of Lot No. 108, Lakeside Tract, at Homewood from multiple family to commercial.

It was formerly known as Sam's Market, having been built and started by Sam and Gertie Landisberg, now of Sacramento.

The new owners are Jack Dunne and M. J. "Dinty" Moore. The Dunnes are former residents of Yuba City and have two daughters, Jacqueline, who attends Chico State College, and Patricia, who will graduate soon from St. Mary's Hospital in San Francisco. Jacqueline will summer at Lake Tahoe and her sister will visit weekends. The Dunnes have leased the Bowman home in Lake Forest and have a son Gregory, 3½, and a married son, Robert Douglas Moore, married in January, who leaves May 9, his birthdate, on active duy in the Air Force reserve reporting to Mather Field at Sacramento. His wife will accompany him.

A complete stock of grade A merchandise will be carried with fresh produce daily and a full line of wines, liquors and beers, and a soda counter at the front of the store.

CEREMONY IN OGDEN TO HONOR WEST'S PIONEER RAILROAD

Dedication of a granite monument commemorating completion of the first transcontinental raiload will highlight the observance in Ogen today of the 82nd anniverary of driving the Gold Spike at Promontory, Utah.

Governor J. Bracken Lee of Utah will head the group of prominent westerners who are to take part on the program. With unveiling of the monument on the Ogden station grounds there will be recalled the events of the Promontory ceremony of 1869 when rails of Southern Pacific's predecessor, the pioneer Central Pacific, were joined with those of the Union Pacific. On that historic occasion blows from Leland Stanford's hammer on the "last spike" were heard over telegraph wires throughout the nation in probably the first on-the-spot broadcasting of a great news happening.

Joining Governor Lee on the Ogden program will be Southern Pacific and Union Pacific vice presidents J. W. Corbett and Ambrose Seitz of San Francisco and Omaha respectively; David O. McKay, president of the Mormon Church; and Mayor W. R. White of Ogden. The program has been arranged by the Golden Spike Committee of Ogden and the Utah Pioneer Trails and Landmarks Association.

The anniversary observance also will include rehabilitation of the Last Spike monument at Promontory, 50 miles northwest of Ogden, which site of the 1869 ceremony is now completely off the railroad. Promontory's glory of pioneer days was dimmed when Southern Pacific opened a shorter line directly across Great Salt Lake in 1904, relegating the Promontory line to branch line status. Then in 1942 the pioneer line around the north end of the lake was abandoned entirely and the rail turned over to wartime use.

The racing progress of the Cenral Pacific eastward from Sacramento brought into being many new towns, among them Truckee. This place originated in 1868 when the railroad crossed the crest of the Sierra and was formerly the site of a Dutch Flat to Virginia City stage line. For many years Truckee was a division terminal and fueling point for the railroad.

ALWAYS BE CAREFUL DRIVING

The difference goes more than Skin-Deep

Nobody wonders what you're driving when you roll by in this one.

In the 1951 line-up, its brand-new front-end styling stands out with a beauty all its own.

You're the proud owner of a Buick—and the whole world knows it.

But you—at the wheel—enjoy a long list of differences that go far deeper than looks.

The ride is different—level and true. You sit the road with special assurance—because Buick's torque-tube drive keeps rear wheels firmly aligned—soft coil springs on all four wheels soak up the bumps and bobbles—honest weight keeps you on a steady keel.

The power is different—eager and sure. Buick's high-compression Fireball engine does wonders with fuel—and no matter what you demand in emergency, there's horsepower to spare.

Handling is different—this car seems to steer itself on straightaway or curve—and swings lightly into parking spots inches shorter than you'd think you need.

Capping it all, there's the silken versatility of Dynaflow Drive,* that takes all the tenseness out of driving—responds to your slightest wish with a surging swoop of power.

No doubt about it, what you get in a Buick is far more than just a new car—it's a whole new experience in getting pleasurably from here to there.

So why not explore this difference? Come, take a Buick over and find out how very much satisfaction smart money can buy.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

SWANEE'S TAHOE LETTER

Tahoe City, May 6th

Dear Tahoeites:

This Sunday was beautiful, a little cloudy, but grand for fishermen who were disappointed last week. Hear the fishing is good as the weather improves.

Almost unbelievable was the havoc which was experienced at our end of the the lake last Thurs-'ay and Friday when high winds nd heavy waves were the order of the day. At our house, the Hanson Apartments at Carnelian Bay, at least a foot and a half of water was washed into our front yard, reaching right up to the front porch. We had to move our parked cars out onto the highway and debris from the storm was washed far into the yard and driveway. All night long Thursday, the breakers pounded on the beach and washed over the rocky embankment as the wind howled like mad. On Friday morning we awoke to find at least four inches of fresh snow covering the entire landscape with temperatures way down. I learned that about ten feet of the pier at Fremier's Sportsmen's Port on this end of the lake was washed away and one of the boys who work there was almost washed away from the pier by a huge wave while removing outboard motors to the beach where they were covered by tarps for protection against the storm. A pumphouse at the north end was reported washed from its foundation into the lake and at the Carl Zinsmeister home both Mr andM rs. accummulated an extra supply of gray hairs worrying about their brand new Chris Craft, purchased the previous day, which had to be moored at a neighbor's harbor where it was buffeted by wind and waves,but fortunately escaped harm. While some damage was reported at old piers around the lake, most of the high water occurred at the north end.

Vice Commander Fred Main of Tahoe U. S. Coast Guard Flotilla 61 reported a marvelous time was had on last Wednesday evenmet at the Wagon Wheel at southing when the board of directors Tahoe, followed by a night of wonderful entertainment. During the meeting it was announced that one night each month was to be set aside by the Meeks Bay Theater and the Tahoe Valley Theater for the benefit of the American Legion veterans. All proceeds for the night willl go toward a benefit fund exclusively. Other theaters of the area had not yet been contacted. Jack Lyons, former commander of this flotilla, came up from his home in Los Angeles to attend. He is now engaged in naval construction work in the south. It was also announced at the meeting that within two weeks installation work would be completed on the maritime radio stations which are being set up around Lake Tahoe to facilitate rescue work and prevent such tragic accidents as those which occurred last year at the south end. FCC licenses have been granted and three sets are already in operation. Within ten days full installation will have been completed. Harvey Gross, owner of the Wagon Wheel, was given a vote of thanks for his wholehearted cooperation n staging the benefit for the local Coast Guard which needed some reserve in its coffers. The ladies of organization brought the wonderful buffet supper which was served at a late hour and many of the beautifully decorated cakes which were not eaten were auctioned off by Vice Commander Main, who reported lively bidding and lucrative results. Proceeds from the back bar and the proceeds from games during the evenng were donated to the fund, with close to $500 being realized from the enjoyable affair. An orchestra provided dance music and movies of the US task force of the Coast Guard were shown the guests. A crowd estimated at around 250 attended.

Didn't know until this week that Tahoe's Howard Carnell, home on furlough from Marine Corps duty in Korea had been a corporal for some time past. He knew he had made his rank before he went overseas but failed to get his stripes until he returned to Camp Pendleton, near San Diego. And hear too that Pete Ables is at Tahoe enjoying a visit with his bride of a few months, the former Carolyn Boltor at Tahoe Park. Howard is reported by his mom to be greatly enjoying his return home and that he is taller and thinner and more rugged than when he departed. He received his Sierra Sun while overseas and truly appreciated hearing the news from home. His buddy who left the states with him was no so lucky, having been badly wounded last December in Korea Howard visited him in a San Diego hospital before coming to Tahoe Howard's mom and Maizie Carnell met him in Reno last Wednesday morning and drove him home. He has 30 days to vacation and then reports back to Pendleton for reassignment.

Pvt. Florence B. Vernon of the WAC, now assigned to the Base Photo Lab at 78 Headquarters Hamilton Field, will spend Mother Day weekend at home. She writes friends at the lake that she likes her present locale and work but will be glad to get a brief respite with her family and friends at the lake.

C. W. Vernon of Tahoe City had no opposition at the polls on May 1 in Community Hall, Tahoe City. where an election was held for a director of the Tahoe City Public Utility District. John Pingree received the only write-in vote, with 16 tallied for Vernon. The election board consisted of Mrs. Vernon, Mrs. Ida Simmonds and Corrinne Otton.

The Gerry Waters are looking forward to a fine fishing season for their patrons down the Truckee River at Deer Park Lodge where they had planted on Wednesday last 1250 rainbow trout, with more planted on Saturday. They will throw their rearing pond, which is 150 feet long, open to the public this summer and guarantee success to visitors. Gerry extended an invitation to all 30 fellow members of the Tahoe Rotary Club to come down to Deer Park on Monday at catch for themselves two fish each. On Tuesday night Bill Bechdolt, manager of Tahoe Inn, had the trout cooked by his chef for the regular Rotary dinner and meeting.

A resume of the meeting held in Marysville April 27 and attended by Judge and Mrs. C. W. Vernon, came too late for last week's Sun. It was Constables and Justices of Superior California, its purpose to explain what has transpired before the legislature regarding the lower court reorganization as detailed in Proposition 3 in the last election. Joe Brookman was speaker of the evening, he being of the Constables and Justices legislative commitee. attending state legislature meetings at the capital. He reported disappointment in some of the legislation being passed which is not what the association wanted. He reported southern California is putting in all municipal courts and justices of the district can be blanketed into these courts if properly qualified. Otherwise Class B justices would be let out. Another meeting of the group will be held in the fall to pick delegates to attend he meeting at Hoberg's Resort.

Twelve members of the Tahoe City Volunteer Fire Department attended the regular Thursday night dinner at Tahoe Inn last week. Fire Chief Al Henry accepted, in behalf of the department and local citizens, with sincere thanks, the ambulance donated to the local contingent, which was in use all last summer, by Constable N. F. Dolley of Truckee. A mighty generous gesture on Mr. Dolley's part, we'd venture.

Hear a ladder fell from the roof onto the head of Kjell Rustad last week, with a visit to Dr. Nessim's office and several stitches being necessary to dress the wound. It didn't stop Rusty and his missus, though, from departing on time for the Bakersfield FWSA meeting on May 3 and 4. Hear too they will extend their motor trip to include some deep sea fishing off the shore of southern California and Mexico.

Like the robins, Mrs. Evelyn Bliss has returned to her Tahoe City home to dig around in her garden and prepare for the coming of summer.

Bud Scott of Carnelian Bay plans to return home from Seattle where he has been for several days on a business trip. Mrs. Scott flew from Reno to Los Angeles last Thursday morning and is enjoying a visit with her mother, Mrs. Molly Ross. She expects to be home this coming weekend.

Ring off for the week as fishing reports continue good. Good health, good luck and good cheer to all, as ever, Swanee.

Back from Trip—

ARMY DISCLAIMS AUTHORITY IN 4-LANING OF "40"

AUBURN— Congressman Clair Engle of the second district has notified the Placer County Defense Council that the department of the army has notified him the army has neither funds nor authority for making Highway 40 a four lane route across the Sierra Nevada.

Engle was notified by T. A. Young, of the army's legislative bureau, that details of location, design and financing are the responsibility of the bureau of public roads.

"It would appear that continued efforts to have the remaining sections of the Emigrant Route improved as a federal aid secondary road would be the most logical procedure," the army notified Engle.

Several weeks ago, Engle advised the defense council the public roads commissioner had informed him funds are not available for four-laning Highway 40.

"The department of defense has designated a route following the general location of California U. S. Highway No. 40, constructed to the highest practical uniform design standards, as part of the connecting system of interstate highways essential to the national defense," Young told Engle. "However, the department of defense has neither authority nor funds to construct public highways."

The matter will be considered by the defense council at its May 18 meeting.

Tarzan

by EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS®

ABOUT TO SEARCH FOR THE MYSTERIOUS WHITE GIRL, TARZAN HEARD AN APE CALL IN DISTRESS. FOLLOWING THE CRY, HE FOUND THE MANGANI CAPTIVE IN A DEEP PIT!

IN LOW, GUTTURAL TONES TARZAN CALMED THE BEAST. ASSURED, IT GRABBED HIS SINEWY ARM AND CLIMBED FROM THE PIT.

BEWILDERED, THE APE SAID, "FOR MANY MOONS MEMBERS OF MY TRIBE DISAPPEAR. WHEN BLACK HOLE SWALLOW ME, I THINK I GO, TOO!"

THE APE-MAN SCOWLED. WHO WAS WILLFULLY TRAPPING THE MANGANI? WHY? --"GO BACK TO YOUR TRIBE!" HE COMMANDED. "TELL THEM NOT TO BE AFRAID. TARZAN WILL AVENGE HIS PEOPLE!"

...LATER, WHEN TARZAN HAD FINISHED MAKING NEW WEAPONS, A FAMILIAR SCENT CROSSED HIS NOSTRILS - THE GIRL AGAIN!

HE SHOULDERED HIS NEW BOW AND LEAPED AFTER HER. SHE MUST BE QUESTIONED!

CAUGHT, THE GIRL BIT AND SCRATCHED, THEN PLEADED FOR FREEDOM. TARZAN WAS ASTONISHED -- FOR SHE SPOKE IN THE LANGUAGE OF THE GREAT APES!
